

FICTION STRAUB P

A Dark Matter by Peter Straub

This horror story opens in the 1960s, when a college campus guru invites his ardent followers to a meadow to participate in a secret night ritual. The meeting ends in chaos with a gruesomely dismembered body and many shocked and shattered young adults. Years later, one of these haunted souls decides to write a book in an attempt to understand what happened on that terrifying night. As the writer and his friends drag memories from deep within, they become conscious of reawakening the evil that permeated that long-ago night. This chilling novel will be appreciated by Straub's fans and will surely win him many more with its excellent style and tone.

Like More by the Author?

The Talisman

by Peter Straub & Stephen King

Jack Sawyer, a twelve-year-old, embarks on a journey simultaneously this world and the realm of the Territories to find a magic talisman that will save his mother and her twin counterpart in the Territories.

FICTION
KING S

Like Haunted Houses?

House of Reckoning

by John Saul

An orphaned teenager, Sarah Crane, finds solace in the house of her high school art teacher. She and her new friend Nick begin to experience a paranormal presence in the house - a presence with a score to settle!

FICTION
SAUL J

Like Titles With a Gothic Touch?

The House of Sight and Shadow

by Nicholas Griffin

In this masterful story by a modern day Poe, a young mentored doctor gets pulled into the gruesome world of corpse-snatching. He falls in love with the mentor's light-sensitive daughter whose skin and eyes cannot stand sunlight.

FICTION
GRIFFIN N

Like Horror and Suspense Short Stories?

Full Dark, No Stars

by Stephen King

The master of modern horror fiction thrills readers in this collection of creepy and psychologically suspenseful short stories. Included are stories of greed, revenge, and self-deception.

FICTION
KING S

Want Something on Ghost Hunting?

A History of Ghosts: The True Story of Séances, Mediums, Ghosts, and Ghostbusters

by Peter H. Aykroyd

Take a journey into the paranormal experiences of the Akroyd family via the journals and experiences of Dan Aykroyd's grandfather.

133.109 AYK

Like Overseas Ghosts?

The Ghosts of Belfast

by Stuart Neville

Former IRA member Gerry Fegan is visited by the ghosts of twelve of his victims. The hauntings convince him that he has to kill those IRA leaders who gave him his orders several years ago.

FICTION
NEVILLE S